

KAY LYNN

I have studied Sculpture for 8 years with Pam Foley and taken part in the Sunningwell Sculpture Group's two exhibitions at the Turrill Garden in Summertown Oxford in the spring of 2017 and 2019.

I exhibited three pieces in an Exhibition at Centre Space Gallery in Bristol in September 2018.

I had an exhibition with sculpture pieces and paintings and drawings to celebrate the opening of a women's hotel in Spain in 2005.

Previously, I had exhibited a piece as part of an exhibition called The Work of Women in the World is worth its weight in Gold organised by "Threshold Women's Counselling Centre" in Brighton - a Women's Mental Health Initiative, in 2000.

I also studied Sculpture with Sylvie Macrae-Brown in East Sussex for six years 2002-2008.

My interest in Sculpture developed from my major study area in Dance, Choreography and the Moving Body.
